A recent bootcamp graduate looking for a front-end web developer position. After many years in the cosmetics industry, I made a career-changing move and learned to code. I am a quick learner, passionate about coding and building beautiful applications. In my free time I volunteer at the She Codes organization and work on expanding my knowledge of web technologies.

Education

9/2019 - 1/2020	Web Development Bootcamp at Coding Academy. Intensive coding course (~600 hours) that covers all fundamentals of web development. During this course, I gained experience building various front-end and back-end projects from scratch (see GitHub).

Professional Experience

1/2020 - Present	Instructor at She Codes, Tel Aviv University branch, volunteer. In charge of front-end development courses. In-person teaching and tutoring women through their first steps in coding.
1/2019 - 9/2019	Office manager at TipRanks. Performed administrative and HR duties.
2006 - 2019	Self employed in the field of Cosmetics. Over the span of 14 years I owned a private business providing different kinds of beauty treatments. As a business owner, my responsibilities included but were not limited to PR, accounting, administrative work, customer relations, and logistics.
